LIQUAHINJ is prepared for stamp collectors' use. It is a pure rubber cement free from sulphur, and other ingredients commonly found in the ordinary rubber cement. Nothing but pure rubber dissolved in solvents that are non-injurious to postage stamps.

Stamps That Hide Two Mad Kings

BY DON HOUSEWORTH

THE gathering dusk of a Bavarian evening halted the cyclist before the gates of a country estate where a soldier leaned upon his carbine. There was neither house nor castle visible from the road and the traveller concluded that it must be set far back from the highway.

"Am I on the road to Munich?" he asked as he dismounted to light the torch on his wheel.

"Straight ahead," directed the guard. "Two hours' ride if you pedal briskly."

"No hurry on a beautiful night like this," smiled the stranger. "Midnight will be soon enough. But tell me, corporal, what manner of place is this that it should warrant the attention of the military?"

"This is the palace of Furstenreid, residence of his royal highness, King Otto of Bavaria," explained the man in uniform.

"So," exclaimed the traveler with a knowing arching of the brows. "And does his highness improve?"

The soldier stepped closer to scrutinize this man who seemed to have come a long way on his nondescript bicycle, decided it was safe to gossip a bit and declared:

"I think there is no hope. Each week the finest physicians come out from Munich to study the case in the hope of bringing his highness back to the world but no progress is made. They cannot make function what is not there," and he tapped his forehead significantly.

"There was a brother, too," the traveler recalled.

"Yes, yes. Sad cases, both. A queer streak in the family. Never say where you heard it but—, well, I have been in the army a long while and I know something of the history. Their mother, one of those Prussian princesses, had ideas. The little fellows were not permitted to play—no toys—no companions. Always the vision of the throne ahead. No childhood. And when Louis became king he was free for the first time. Like a child, he knew not when to stop.

Play, play, play. Perhaps that is why he built castles everywhere."

"And all but wrecked his country financially, I hear," added the cyclist.

"Too true," agreed the soldier. "Had not he relinquished the power to Prince Luitpold we would have known terrible times. I helped recover the body after he had drowned himself and his doctor in the Lake of

This type of stamp is known to every school-boy collector. While extremely common it is steeped in the history of Bavaria. Stamps of this type were issued in 1911 to mark the ninetieth birthday of Prince Luitpold, uncle of the insane brothers who were the crowned heads of the country.

Starenberg. But where suicide ended one unfortunate life it placed another before the people for, you know, this madness had already struck twice. His brother Otto," the soldier nodded backward into the darkness, "is king in name."

"He does not attempt to rule?" asked the stranger.

"Oh, no. No one can be sure he even realizes he is king. He lives on the first floor of the palace and cannot stand to have any door closed so all gates must be guarded. His beard grows long and untidy and I have seen him light a whole box of matches for one cigaret. He likes to watch the flame. The mind is gone. No, everything is left to the prince regent. It could not be otherwise. But what does it matter? Bavaria is not as free as I. Prussia is the master."

"And the regent?" persisted the curious one. "He satisfies the people?"

"A more lovable man never lived. Why, but this year the king of England made him a knight of the garter as a birthday present."

The soldier leaned his gun against the gate and from his tunic extracted a letter. In the light of the torch he displayed it to the stranger.

"See—the stamp!" he explained. "It is being sold at the post offices now for the ninetieth birthday of the prince. Is it not beautiful? These little portraits of the prince will go to far corners of the earth and fifty years, a hundred years from now will remind the world of Luitpold. It is to be regretted that he has a secret sorrow."

"A sorrow?"
"Yes—and one that will go to his grave with him. The prince is uncle to King Otto and was uncle to King Louis. This alone is sufficient to depress him but there is something more. Prince Luitpold has a daughter, the lovely Therese, who loved King Louis and she has not forgotten. It is sad. The princess entered a religious order for a time but her father, being a widower, needed her by him in the palace so she left the convent and now is hostess at all the grand affairs in Munich."

"Quite sad," agreed the traveler as he remounted his vehicle. "Two hours to the city? I shall not forget you, corporal. Good night."

• • • • •

A few days later an official memorandum on the desk of General Wittelbach stated:

"It is deemed advisable by your agent that the night guard at the principal gate to the palace of Furstenreid be transferred to a post where he will have less opportunity to discuss his king and country."

TIPEX HOLDS LIMELIGHT

Collectors the country over have been having a great time since the announcement that the souvenir sheet for the New York Tipex show would be composed of the four different commemoratives. Since the Postmaster at New York will handle only complete panes on cover, the chances are that collectors will look upon singles and se tenant pairs as the more desirable covers, in that there will not be so many put through in comparison with the full sheets. There are nine combinations, most likely to be used, and a possible two others not so likely to be found. The nine are, four singles (one of each stamp), four pairs (two vertical and two horizontal), the complete pane, and two possible diagonal pairs. The diagonal pairs can be cut by leaving a fairly wide margin from the two stamps eliminated, for instance, one pair would be the Conn., upper left and the Texas, lower right; the other, the Michigan, lower left and the San Diego, upper right.

The plate number, as carried in the press release from the Department was in error, as the number should have read 21557 which is correct, instead of 21062 which is incorrect. Plate 21557 will be used for the stamps which are to be sold. So long as the stamps are also to be printed at the Exhibition display, another plate will be necessary for that purpose. It is understood that the usual practice of destroying the stamps printed at the Exhibition will be followed.

Apparently the Post Office Department has not decided to put the souvenir stamps on sale anywhere outside of the Exhibition rooms.

PHILATELIC AGENCY

The Philatelic Agent reports that work in the Agency is going along as usual and that there is a substantial daily gain being made in decreasing the number of orders on hand. A two days' average gain the middle of April was in the neighborhood of 189 orders. At that time the Orders were approximately 17 days behind, and orders for the Tipex and Rhode Island stamps had already started coming in.

PHILIPPINE STAMP NEWS

Stamp Meet At Syracuse

The annual exhibition and banquet of the Syracuse Stamp Club, one of New York State's oldest philatelic organizations, will be held Saturday, April 25, in the Roof Garden of the Onondaga Hotel. This event will mark the 17th anniversary of the club's founding and promises to be an extraordinary affair.

Entries in the exhibition will be non-competitive and will include displays of stamps from many of the most outstanding collections in Syracuse and Central New York. A chronological arrangement of the United States section will philatelically portray our country's eventful history.

Although program arrangements for the banquet, to be given at 6:30 o'clock, are as yet incomplete, plans reveal an exceptionally novel presentation of America's famous "Pony Express." It has been prepared and will be given by Rollin E. Flower, Stamp Editor of the Buffalo Evening News and President of the Buffalo Stamp Club, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Reservations for the banquet and information concerning the exhibition or auction can be had by writing the General Chairman, Max L. Elliott, The Post-Standard, Syracuse, N. Y.

Herman Herst Goes Abroad

Herman Herst, Jr., of New York City, will sail for Europe early in May. His trip is for the purpose of buying stamps and he will visit in Ireland, England and France.

Friends and customers who address him in the meantime will be obliged to await his return in the early part of July.

Airmail Cover News

C. A. Hunter, Syracuse, Nebraska

Information, as well as inquiries for this department should be addressed as above.

Newspapers carry the story of another air liner crash. A plane of the TWA bound from Camden, N. J. for Columbus, Ohio, crashed near Uniontown, Pa., on April 7. It was reported to have had radio trouble and to have been in a storm area at the time of the crash. Nothing said about mail.

The department of commerce reports the following new airports in Florida. Brighton, auxiliary, ½ mile south; Fellsmere, auxiliary, one mile northwest; Homestead, auxiliary, ½ mile northwest (dedicated in December, 1935); Lake Placid, auxiliary, 1½ miles northwest. Florida readers requested to send information on these.

By the time this is printed, it will be too late for you to mail your covers to be sent on the Hindenburg on its trip to the U. S. but you can still get covers for the eastward trip. Address the covers to yourself and affix 40c in postage on each one; mail them to the postmaster at New York for dispatching; and be sure that the instruction "Via Von Hindenburg to Germany" is on each cover.

Future events are coming in slow. Here are some. . . Officials of the Pine Bluff, Ark., are planning an air show to be held at Toney Field on a date to be selected, with Col. Carroll Cone, assistant chief of the Bureau of Air Commerce as honorary chairman. The air show is the principal event of 10 such entertainments planned by Jefferson county as part of the Arkansas Centennial celebration this year. Many U. S. planes and private planes will be there. Covers to Joe W. Sitlington, 4800 Crestwood Drive, Little Rock, Ark. Air mail covers only and commemoratives appreciated. . . Joe W. Sitlington, whose address is in the preceding item, is holding covers for the dedication of Little Rock's municipal airport this summer or fall. . . Bloomington, Ill., is to be placed on an air mail route in the near future and for this inauguration, the Cornbelt Philatelic Society in cooperation with the Association of Commerce and the Daily Pantagraph will sponsor a cachet. Covers should be sent unsealed and unstuffed to George D. Houchin, 405 E. Washington St., Bloomington, Ill. Commems. appreciated. . . The Dayton Collectors Club will sponsor a cachet for the dedication of Dayton's municipal airport at Vandalia, Ohio, which will occur this summer or fall. A special printed cachet will be applied to covers sent unsealed and unstuffed, standard 6¼ size, with 1c forwarding postage to Wm. W. Denton, 51 Bish Ave., Dayton, Ohio. . . Postmaster, Newell, S. Dak., is holding covers for the airport dedication to occur there in the future. . . Geo. Fawkes, 567 Eighteenth Ave., Vancouver, B. C., is holding covers for a series of 12 dedications in Canada that may occur this summer. Canadian stamps needed which he will buy at face, send coin or money to cover postage. Commems. appreciated. . . Nashville, Tenn., expects to dedicate Oct. 1. Covers to Will T. Cheek, 147 Fourth Ave., N. . . Glasgow, Ky. expects to dedicate this summer, covers to C. of C. . . Lexington, Ky., planning dedication this spring, covers to Board of Trade. . . Buffalo, Pa. (?) newspaper clipping states 250 men working on project.

Co-ops: Rex Copp, Wm. W. Bish, State Journal, Air Commerce Bulletin; Joe Sitlington, Chas. P. Haller, and others.

Garden City Stamp Agency Incorporates

The following extracts from a letter from Mr. Jos. Whitebough, President of the Garden City Stamp Company of Chicago, should be of interest to his friends.

"We are pleased with the results of our advertisements with Linn's Weekly Stamp News and are glad to enclose our new advertising contract for 52 weeks and continue as steady advertisers."

"At the same time we wish to inform you that due to business extensions, our firm has been recently incorporated. All shares have been taken up by the former owners and there are none for sale altho there have been offers as high as 50% over face value. The majority of the shares are held by Mr. Whitebough, President and Treasurer of the firm, who has successfully managed the business for the past 30 years."

First Day Cover Catalog

What are First Day Covers worth? Leo August, 510 S. 18th St., Newark, N. J., has just issued his 1936 edition Specialized Catalogue of U. S. First Day Covers. This catalogue attempts to price all known First Day Covers of U. S. stamps and the first cover priced is the 2c Columbian of 1893. This stamp on cover is listed at $30.00. It is of interest to note that few First Day covers are known prior to 1920 and collectors would do well to watch for early covers since they would be quite valuable.

We would suggest that any edition of a First Day Cover Catalogue would be of much value to the collector if a list of dates for first day of issue of all stamps were given. Such a list would be difficult to compile but would be of help.

This catalogue is priced at only 25c and is a very reliable guide to actual sale value.

Put on the Spot

The editor of Linn's Weekly was recently invited to speak and make a display before the Crawford Stamp Club at Bucyrus, Ohio. Arriving in the city a bit early, he glanced through the local newspaper and found an item headed, "Stamp Editor to Address Club." The several paragraphs below this head told of the services at a local church preceding Easter Sunday. Elsewhere on the same page was a heading for the "Epworth League" and under this was the paragraph relative to the stamp club meeting.

Straight From the Shoulder

A Few Minutes with the Editor

FIRST DAY COVERS

It would appear to us that the principal object of a first day cover would be to have the stamp used on a cover and with a clearly struck postmark, all of which provides a visible record of the actual day and date of issue of the stamp.

We can think of nothing else that is necessary to make a first day cover complete. However, there are other things of importance and interest that will add to a first day cover and perhaps the chief of these is to have the cover prepared carefully, neatly addressed, the stamp placed in proper position which we would say should be about a quarter inch from the upper right corner of the envelope.

The envelope to be used should, in all cases, be of the standard size commercial envelope which is referred to as a 6¾ size envelope. This envelope measures 6½ inches long by 3½ inches high and is the size that is most preferred by discriminating collectors. To use any other size will make your covers less desired by the collector who is appreciative of first day covers.

It has become the custom also to use covers which have some sort of a "cachet" applied to them. A cachet is nothing more than a "mark" which may be a picture, an appropriate wording or a combination of picture and wording relating to the event.

The principal object of this cachet or marked cover is to readily identify it as a cover of some importance rather than an ordinary cover. The cachet or mark on the cover has no other importance, yet it has been the custom in marking covers to mark them with pictures or wording relating to the particular event for which the stamp on the cover has been issued.

It is needless to state that in selecting a cover, much more satisfaction will be had by picking one that is well done both as to illustration and printing.

There are usually a number of such covers offered by various publishers and collectors would do well to see that they obtain neat covers before placing their orders for the First Day Cancellations. Now and then there are some come into the market that are so poorly done that the entire cover is ruined by the poor envelope and illustration.

A LINPRINT PROSPECTUS

In the past week, several inquiries have come from readers asking for copies of the Prospectus which has recently been issued. It has been quite gratifying that these inquiries have come to us so promptly after announcement of the Prospectus in our issue of April 11th.

Already, a number of the Prospectus have been mailed to readers on our mailing list and we plan to continue on the list from time to time. If you are interested in seeing a copy, we would urge that you do not wait until your name is reached on the list. The exceptional opportunity that is being offered to those who purchase stock in Linprint Inc., should interest every collector for the courtesy discount to stockholders will make it well worth while to have a share or more of stock. Besides you have an investment which will pay you 6% on your money as can be attested by the stockholders who received their dividend checks last week.

The additional capital which we wish to raise at this time is to be used for the improvement of this Faster presses for more speedy production are our first object, after which it is our intention and hope to inaugurate a series of low priced publications of general interest, among which will be booklets, special album page groups for stamps of extraordinary interest. There is a wonderful opportunity in this line, pages for certain popular stamps of low value, handsomely prepared with illustrations, printed notations and tipped in pictures for special displays.

An Ode To Philately

I am a stamp collector

A philatelist, if you please
And in the pursuit of my hobby
I've sailed the seven seas.

I started at Abyssinia

And ended at Zanzibar.
Thus I know my stamps from A to Z
And from Timbuctoo to Saar.

United States stamps I dote on

But I get them wherever I can
From French and British colonies
From Algiers down to Soudan.

I'm nuts on perfs and watermarks

And some fancy grills thrown in
And when it comes to coils and blocks
I spend my jack like sin.

I've got them from Chad and China

From the land of the midnight sun
My album's full of snakes and birds
But I got them without a gun.

They come from the funniest places

You'd think they were not on the map

With all sorts of scenery and faces
Even a Goya to fill up the gap.

Now if you're fed up with depression

And your business gives you the cramps

Just take a tip from a nut like me
And start a collection of stamps.

Minor Varieties

HONDURAS: Scott's #309 comes with the overprint in vermilion and also in carmine. The vermilion overprint is always in the upper half of the stamp and the carmine always on the lower half. Scott's #310 comes with either an ultramarine or a greenish blue overprint.

PERU: Scott's #420, the printer's imprint "LIT. C. FABRI-LIMA" at the bottom of the stamp varies in length from 15 to 15½ mm. on all stamps with wide margins. On stamps with narrow margins the imprint is only 13½ mm. long and closer to the bottom frame line of the stamp. These imprint differences and the difference in width of margins around the stamps suggest that at least two different stones or plates were used for the lithographing of these stamps.

RELIGION IN THE STAMPS

American Cathedrals On The Stamps

By Harry M. Savacol

CHAPTER XVI

Travellers report that most of the worshipers are women and that few men are to be seen. While the stamps bearing the picture come from a time when the art of stamp printing was not what it is today, the picture is one that shows the size and exterior beauty of the building to good advantage.

The Cathedral of Leon in Nicaragua does not show to good advantage on the stamp issue of 1914 when it was used on six values (No. 351, 353, 355, 356, 358, 360). In fact it could hardly show very well for it is a low building with two low, squat towers. It was built low to withstand earthquake shocks and it has done so successfully for three hundred years. A special attraction for Spanish speaking people in this Cathedral is the tomb of Ruben Daria, a writer beloved by all who speak Spanish. A very unusual feature is the wall decoration. There are fifteen large canvases executed by a local painter, Antonio Savia. They are daringly executed in the most radically modern manner and are unusual to say the least. This same design was used on other stamps, with and without surcharges, in practically every year from 1914 to 1935.

Argentina gave the Cathedral of Buenos Aires a place on her Eucharistic Congress Stamps of 1934. This was very appropriate since many of the ceremonies of the Congress were held in the Cathedral. It was built in 1791 on the site of an earlier church dating from 1580. The stamp is 15c value in dark blue and bears a very good picture of the front of the Cathedral. The front is a long porch supported by columns with the low dome in back. In reality it looks more like an American County Court House than a church. It has, however, a beautiful interior and contains the fine tomb of the South American hero, Gen. San Martin.

In 1933 the Cathedral of La Plata was used on the 20c value of the Argentine issue in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the City of La Plata (No. 412). This Cathedral is relatively new and is still in the process of construction. The stamp shows a good picture of the completed portion.

Cuba has also placed her National Cathedral on the stamps. In 1928 the 50c value of the Pan-American Conference issue bore a picture of Havana Cathedral flanked on the left by a map of North America and on the right by a map of South America (No. 296). This Cathedral is often called the "Columbus Cathedral" because his bones were supposed to have rested there from 1795 to 1898. However, this question of the resting place of the bones of Columbus has become so confused that no one knows where they were or are. It is claimed by some that the bones of which Havana Cathedral boasted were in reality those of his son, Diego Columbus.

Guatemala in 1902, 1908, and 1912 placed a picture of the National Cathedral on her stamps (No. 119, 134, 147). While this Cathedral cannot boast of any great antiquity it is a beautiful building in the best modern style of architecture. Some of our authorities felt that it was a little too gaudy and elaborate.

The City of Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, is a very old city. While it has less than 50,000 inhabitants and very few two-story buildings it is rich in beautiful scenery, trees, and rivers. Towering over its low houses is the Cathedral. Perhaps because it is relatively new, being dedicated as late as 1845, Paraguay did not give it a place on her stamps until 1929. In that year it was used on the 1.90p airmail (No. 418, 419). The picture gives a good idea of its imposing but rather peculiar looking front. An airplane is shown flying low over the Cathedral.

Montevideo, Capital of Uruguay, is a splendid city; one of the cleanest in South America. There are many fine buildings of which the Cathedral is not least in beauty and grandeur. It faces the city plaza. There are two towers at the front and a dome back of them. The three arched entrances are of equal size. The building of the Cathedral was begun in 1803 and was not completed until 1905. This Cathedral has found a place on the stamps twice; both times before it was entirely completed. In 1895-96 it was used on a large stamp of 3p value in carmine and rose (No. 112). A glance at the catalog price will show why it is not found in many collections. Fortunately for the average collector, however, the same design was again used in 1897 on the 3p value in lilac and carmine (No. 129) and this is much cheaper.

Roman Catholics are few and scattered in Honduras. In fact the Cathedral at Tegucigalpa is only the seat of a Vicariate Apostolic and most of the Catholic work is missionary in character. For this reason the Cathedral is of no great importance and it is only used once on a stamp and that the 20c official of 1929 (No. 641).

Spanish Town was until 1870 the capital of the British Colony of Jamaica. Since then it has declined in importance and has only about 10,000 population. The Cathedral, however, is important because it is said to be the oldest Cathedral in the British Colonies. It has been recently restored and with its red brick walls and one tower of medium height it takes on an imposing aspect due to its rather insignificant surroundings. Every other cathedral treated in this chapter is Roman Catholic. This alone, while once Catholic is now under Anglican control. The government of Jamaica placed a very good picture of this Cathedral on its 4p value of the issue of 1919-21 (No. 81).

In 1915 as part of the observance of the Panama Exposition, and again in 1919 in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the founding of Panama, the Republic of Panama used a picture of the Ruins of the Cathedral of Old Panama on the stamps (No. 207, 217). All that remains of this once important Cathedral, after the ravages of time, jungle, and earthquakes, is a little ruined brickwork, grown over with vines and shrubs.

It is sad that in the United States our mutual religious jealousies leave our stamps without a single place of Christian Worship shown on them. Could not our Christian Brotherhood allow a stamp bearing the Chapel at Valley Forge, the National Cathedral at Washington, or some other church, no matter of what particular denomination, connected with our early history? Or why not three stamps, one bearing a Catholic Cathedral, another an Episcopal Cathedral, and another a Protestant Church? The ones to be used might be chosen by a ballot of the Congressmen of each of these three religious groups, or some other satisfactory method. It would be a fine gesture of respect for religion on the part of the government.

Texas Collector Beats Farley

Rev. F. J. Winter of San Antonio, Texas, having read that Mr. Farley was to issue a combination sheet of four different stamps, got the jump on the P. M. G. by making up a cover composed of the four late Commemoratives arranged in a block on a cover from Goliad, Texas, commemorating the Massacre at Goliad, 100 years ago.

In arranging the cover Mr. Winter used the Wisconsin instead of the San Diego stamp, yet the effect is the same and makes a very pleasant-looking cover.

Latvia—Forgeries

Forgeries of the imperf triangular air stamps of 1921 of Latvia. While probably known to our readers, it may be well to note them here for the benefit of some who might otherwise overlook same. The details of the sky and propeller are coarser in the forgeries, but to the naked eye the main distinction seems to be that the lines of horizontal shading in the upper left corner of the central panel do not come so near to the wing of the aeroplane in the forgeries, as in the originals, so that there is a white space between the shading and the wing, which is clearly seen in the forgeries.

The Scott Stamp and Coin Company announce that the new edition of the Specialized U. S. Stamp Catalogue will be issued on May 9th. It is announced that hundreds of new items will be added, that the new catalogue will contain fully 100 pages more than the previous edition. This is certainly news and is doubtless due to the widespread interest in U. S. Stamps. We expect to see plate number blocks, line blocks of all kinds and many other of the popular side lines included. Certainly there is a need for such listings. Anyhow, you will want this new catalogue. Place your order at once as I will have a supply ready to ship immediately after issued.

The Price is $2.50 — I Pay the Postage

On all orders received prior to May 10th I will use a complete sheet of the new TIPEX Souvenir sheet to be issued in New York on May 9th also a corner block of six of the IMPERF PARKS—FARLEY ISSUE, in paying postage to you.

SAINT LOUIS B122.

According to Al Jones, in the Midwest Precancel News, this rather common stamp is due for a real change in the forth-coming catalog. Here is what he has to say about the stamp. "There is a bureau print from a big town listed in the sixteenth edition of the catalog at one cent that I find rather elusive. It may be that this item is plentiful in some places but I doubt it. Anyhow it will be interesting to watch. My prediction is that the next catalog will show not less than 1000% increase in the price of this stamp. What is it? St. Louis, B122."

NEW YORK MEET.

Due to the great success of their recent Get-together, the N. Y. Precancel Club will hold another informal afternoon and evening meeting on Sunday, May 17, in the Florentine Room of the Hotel Lexington, from noon until midnight. This being the last day of the Tipex, visiting stamp collectors will have a double opportunity of attending both the Exhibition and the N. Y. Precancel reception. For special information, inquire of Richard Beck, 3206—29th St., Long Island City, N. Y.

ADOLF GUNESCH
159 N. STATE CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

A copy will be sent free to interested precancel collectors. Western States precancels are featured in this sheet. Here is an item taken from the paper that I think is of interest. "There are at least 80 constant plate breaks on San Francisco old Bureau type; 55 of which are known on ten or more of the 20 possible ordinaries in this type." I almost forgot to mention that the ECHO came in from Whittier, Calif., with a 3c TEXAS precancelled in U-120 type.

GENERAL NOTES.

Several weeks ago we ran an article "Killing a Rumor" and the type setters failed to notice the little BEE we had tucked away in one corner, so we want to take the time here to tell you that, that article was taken from the BEE. — The 10c and 5c Parks from Wichita, Kans., in U-1 have been mentioned in the papers but I have not seen any as yet. Even rumored that there might be a whole set out. — In the Jan. issue of the BEE, was a list of 55 Connecticut Tercentenary Precancels. Out of the 55 items, only THREE were printed precancels, the rest were handstamps, mostly of the metal types, U-120, 121 and 122.

ROGERS ARK.

From Eddie Christ of Saint Louis, comes the 1/2c due and 2c and 3c Parks from this place in a two subject rubber handstamp. The letters of the style of U-82 but lower case. Rogers—then a thick line under it, and Ark. under the line. Only one line used and it is between Rogers and Ark. like a fraction line. Who has seen others from this place? We now take our grain of salt and await developments on these.

Memphis Club Is Active

At the April third meeting of the Memphis (Tenn.) Stamp Club, E. M. Sweeney, club auctioneer, staged a hot auction. A. G. Allison was elected Secretary-Treasurer to succeed Mrs. Ellen Jorgensen, recently resigned.

A Committee was also appointed to arrange for the annual stamp show to be held in May.

News contributions and inquiries for this department should be addressed as above.

PHILADELPHIA NEWS:

I have just been advised by Dr. S. E. Hutnick, 5933 Lansdowne Ave., West Philadelphia, Pa., that they have had a lot of trouble with covers for the launching of the U.S.S. Selfridge, but it could not be helped on account of the ice in the river. The covers received by many with the wrong date cancellation should be returned to the doctor without delay so that they can be properly corrected. Don't delay. Return them at once.

Within the last six months Dr. Hutnick has had about 50 events covered. Those that have kept covers with him have received some very pleasing surprises. So if you care to take advantage of Dr. Hutnick's generosity on future items send him from one to fifty covers and forget your troubles from Philadelphia and vicinity. Then dream and wait for surprises. I, for one, have received many a fine cover from him and he handles collectors covers with the same care he does his own. There are many good events popping so send 'em to the doctor. Please use 6 3/4 size envelopes properly prepared, flaps turned in and include one cent forwarding postage. Sailor lads are exempt from the latter. Commemoratives on wrappers are always appreciated.

From Seneca Falls, New York, a cat received as "fan mail" one thousand letters when he was twenty-one years old and 240 guests appeared at a banquet given by Dr. W. L. Clark, a veterinarian, the owner of his highness, Tommy, the cat. All the letters received by Tommy will be answered by Dr. Clark, who will act as secretary.

Do you know that Charles Kenyon, a 68 year old letter-carrier, of Pittsfield, Mass., who has just retired has walked 130,000 miles, he estimates, and has delivered 8,000,000 pieces of mail in his 40 years that he has covered the same route?

REID D. MACAFEE, APS 12,215
115 Randolph St., South Weymouth, Mass.

Flash. Hornell, New York, grown-ups are going to school to learn about stamp collecting. A course in philately was added to the curriculum of the adult school of education recently.

Nate Collier is the artist of a new series of anti-New Deal cartoon stamps, published privately and this was announced recently by William Ingles, former director of the National Republican Council. They will be printed in sheets of 100. They will be in five subjects and will lampoon President Roosevelt to a fare-you-well. Lack of space prevents us from going into further details of just what these stamps are, but our guess is that if these stamps or stickers are pasted on the back of letters they will be thrown out of the mails so quick that the gum will come off the regular two or three cent stamps stuck on the envelopes, the heat will be so great. Thought. A new branch of collecting. Campaign stickers.

Joseph G. Jaffe, 37 years old, a lawyer, living at 2265 Sedgwick Avenue, New York, advertised he wished to dispose of part of his collection he had been getting together since he was seven years old. He received a telephone call from a man who said he was interested and shortly afterward two well dressed men called on the lawyer. Upon seeing the collection one of them pulled out a revolver and left with this collection valued at $3,000, containing stamps from the 1847 issue of U. S. onward.

Do you know that the 50c value of the new Diego de Almagro set of Chile, showing the discoverer of that country has been withdrawn because a fault was found in this value of a twelve stamp set and that complete sets are not found easily? Already $2.50 is the price on Nassau Street for the set mint, the face value being around $1.

issued in conjunction with the Third

New York, May 9-17, will embrace the Connecticut Centenary, California Pacific Exposition, Michigan

This special stamp sheet, which is in purple ink and will be gummed, but not perforated.

Stamp collectors desiring first-day covers may send a limited number of self-addressed envelopes, not to exceed ten, with a cash or money order remittance to cover the value of the stamps required for affixing at the rate of 12 cents per cover to the Postmaster, New York, N. Y. All requests for first-day cover service should reach the Postmaster at New York not later than May 6.

Envelopes to be used for first-day covers should be large enough so as to leave a clear space of 3½ by 2½ inches at the right for the affixing of the souvenir sheet.

The Postmaster at New York will not be authorized to accept mail orders for the souvenir sheets in un-canceled condition and all applications for supplies thereof for collection purposes should be directed to the Philatelic Agency of the Post Office Department in Washington, where this special issue will be placed on sale starting May 11, 1936. The Agency will not accept covers for mailing on that date.

Eddie Cantor's stooge says he doesn't use the green one-cent stamps.
He waits until they get ripe and then uses them as 2s.

THE TIPEX SOUVENIR SHEET MAY 9th

HANDSOME TWO-COLOR 6¾ SIZE ENVELOPE

We Will Accept Standing Orders for Envelopes

Many buyers have frequently sent us a dollar and asked us to send new envelopes each time a new stamp appears until their dollar is used up. We believe many would like to adopt this plan and we therefore make the following schedule.

SEND US ONE DOLLAR AND WE WILL SEND — POSTPAID

Six envelopes for each of the next ten new stamps to be issued when announced.
or Fifteen envelopes for each of the next four stamps to be issued when announced.
or Forty envelopes for each of the next two stamps to be issued when announced.

By this plan you are always sure to get the envelopes promptly when a new stamp is announced. You save time and trouble in ordering as well as postage and money order expense. Present indications are that there will be more than ten new stamps before the end of this year.
